At Murdishaw West, our aim is that pupils will be supported to develop a handwriting style which is clear, joined and fluid. Inevitably some will be neater than others, but each child can acquire a consistent and fluent style.

Although there are many opportunities to practise handwriting across the curriculum, we will also provide regular lessons for teaching and revising these skills. The frequency and length of these lessons will vary according to the age and competence of the children.

Handwriting is taught so it is in line with Essential Letters and Sounds rhymes.

Once children are ready to join their handwriting, we use the Debbie Hepplewhite patter and resources.

Good handwriting is an essential skill in the quest to spell and write fluently, confidently and competently.

For children to achieve better than expected standard in the writing assessments at the end of Year 6, their handwriting must be joined.

Aims

For Teachers

1. To know the correct style, letter formations and joins in handwriting to ensure consistency across the school
2. To understand the progression in handwriting so that pupils are taught in every lesson and pupils' handwriting develops and improves
3. To ensure high expectations in handwriting lessons and that pupils are expected to apply the same standards in other independent writing

For Pupils

1. To know the importance of clear and neat presentation in order to communicate meaning effectively
2. To write legibly in both joined and printed styles with increasing fluency and speed by;
 - Having a correct pencil grip
 - Knowing that all letters and digits start from the top, except d and e which start in the middle
 - Forming all letters and digits correctly
 - Knowing the size and orientation of letters of digits

Teaching time

- EYFS daily practice that is closely supervised.
- Years 1 and 6, three 10 minute sessions a week.

Handwriting in the Foundation Stage

Good handwriting relies on secure motor control and hand-eye coordination. Children should learn handwriting through movement with the actual writing of letters and numbers as the ultimate aim. Children will:

- Engage in activities requiring hand-eye coordination
- Use one-handed tools and equipment
- Draw lines and circles using gross motor movement
- Manipulate objects with increasing control
- Begin to use anticlockwise movement and retrace vertical lines
- Begin to form recognisable letters and numbers

- Use a pencil and hold it effectively to form recognisable letters and numbers, most of which are correctly formed

Throughout the Foundation Stage, children need lots of opportunities to develop:

- Physical control through large-scale movement such as outdoor play. Balancing, climbing, marching and moving to music.
- Manipulative skills such as using tools, cooking utensils and scissors.
- Fine motor control and hand-eye coordination, through activities such as jigsaws, threading, cutting and manipulating 'small world' equipment.

Before being developmentally ready to learn to write letters, children are exposed to a range of Fine-Motor skill activities ad key movements.

The key movements underpinning letter formation should be introduced through large- scale movements, from the shoulder.

In the earliest stages children should make the movements symmetrically using both arms. Once the movement is firmly established in kinaesthetic memory, it can be reduced in scale using activities such as sky writing, using sticks in sand etc. and then reduced further in art activities using felt tip pens, crayons and chubby pencils.

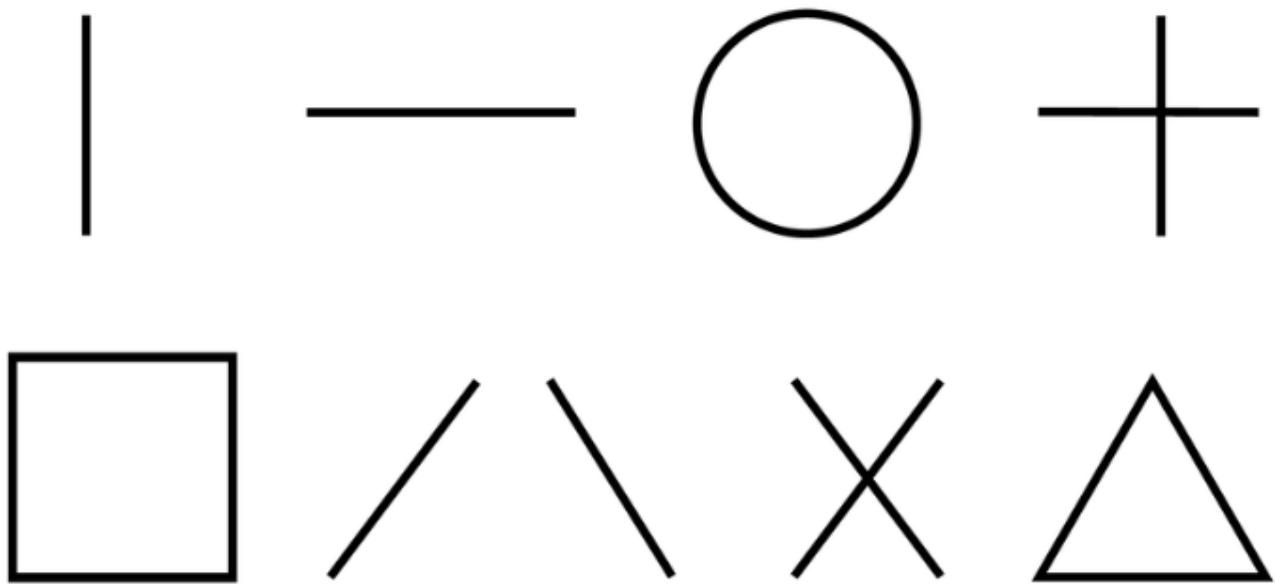

Following this, children are encouraged to practise and accurately execute the pre-handwriting shapes. The pre-handwriting shapes form the basis for all letter formation and regular practice of these, even when children have already begun to learn to write letters, is beneficial.

Teachers should model letter and number formation using the correct letter patter (See Appendix 1)

Reception

- Pre-writing shapes
- Individual letter and number formation
- Word formation based on letter groups – linked to letter and sounds, beginning to show joins in diagraphs

Pre-Writing Shapes (in developmental order)

The National Curriculum English Programmes of Study provide guidance on teaching handwriting:

Year 1 pupils should be taught to:

- Sit correctly at a table, holding a pencil comfortably and correctly
- Begin to form lower-case letters in the correct direction, starting and finishing in the right place
- Form capital letters
- Form digits 0-9
- Understand which letters belong to which handwriting 'families' (i.e. letters that are formed in similar ways) and to practise these
- Make links with phonics and spelling

Year 2 pupils should be taught to:

- Form lower-case letters of the correct size relative to one another
- Start using some of the diagonal and horizontal strokes needed to join letters and understand which letters, when adjacent to one another, are best left not joined
- Write capital letters and digits of the correct size, orientation and relationship to one another and to lower case letters
- Use spacing between words that reflects the size of the letters

Year 3-4 pupils should be taught to:

- Use the diagonal and horizontal strokes that are needed to join letters and understand which letters, when adjacent to one another, are best left not joined
- Increase the legibility, consistency and quality of their handwriting, e.g. by ensuring that the down strokes of letters are parallel and equidistant; that lines of writing are spaced sufficiently so that the ascenders and descenders of letters do not touch.

Year 5-6 pupils should be taught to:

- Write legibly, fluently, with increasing speed and personal style by:
- Choosing which shape of a letter to use when given choices and deciding, as part of their personal style, whether or not to join specific letters

- Choosing the writing implement that is best suited for a task (e.g. quick notes, letters)

Model used

Murdishaw West Community Primary School uses the ELS and Debbie Hepplewhite letter formations and joins with the following letter formations:

Lower case letters

a b c d e f g h i j k l m n o p q r s t u v w x y z

Capitals

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

Cursive Script

a b c d e f g h i j k l m n o p q r s t u v w x y z

Numbers

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

The joins

There are two main joins:

- a “diagonal join to half height” (approximately the mid-point of the gap between reasonably spaced writing lines in an ordinary exercise book);
- a “washing line join”.

With letter e, the diagonal join has to sweep round to form the e (egg) and the washing line join has to dip down to form the e (are).

When a letter that ends with a washing line join (o,r,v,w,x) is followed by a letter in the c group (c,a,d,s,g,o,q) a hook over is added to the washing line join to reach the starting point of the next letter(oak, rag, van, want, exam).

Books

If appropriate for the individual child, English books have lines in them with consistent size from Year 2 – 6. Year F and 1 have bigger spaces between the lines. Additional handwriting books are also used to practice letter and number formation.

Pencils and Pens

Pupils will use HB pencils initially and move onto pens. Children at Key Stage 1 use sharp pencils with grips if they require them. From year five, children are able to use a pen, if their writing is neat and consistent and are able to write in pen in all their books with the exception of Maths. By Year 6, all children should be writing in pen.

Getting ready to write Seating and posture

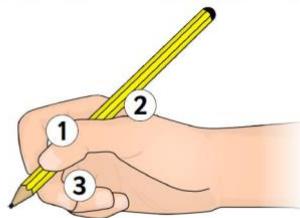

- Chair and table should be at a comfortable height
- The table should support the forearm so that it rests lightly on the surface and is parallel to the floor
- Encourage children to sit up straight and not slouch
- The height of the chair should be such that the thighs are horizontal and feet flat on the floor
- Tables should be free of clutter
- Rooms should be well lit
- Left handed pupils should sit on the left of their partners

Pencil grip

- A tripod grip is the most efficient way of holding a

How to Hold a Pencil

1. Put your thumb and forefinger just above the cone shaped part of the pencil.
2. Let the pencil rest between your thumb and forefinger.
3. Then put your middle finger underneath for support.

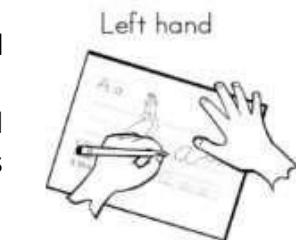

For right handers

- Hold lightly between the thumb and forefinger about 3cm away from the point
- The paper should be placed to the right tilted slightly to the left
- Use the left hand to steady the paper

- Hold lightly between thumb and forefinger resting on the first knuckle of the middle finger
- Hold about 3cm from the tip but some children may need to grip a little further away from the tip so that the writing is not obscured by the thumb knuckle.
- The hand should be kept below the writing line although some pupils will find a 'hook' more comfortable
- The paper should be tilted slightly to the right at about 20 - 30° and pushed about 5cm away from the body to prevent 'hooking' of the hand which is caused by the left elbow 'locking' into the side of the body.
- Use the right hand to steady the paper
- As a left hander has to push the pencil across the paper, more force can be achieved if the child sits on a slightly higher chair or has a supportive cushion to give extra height.
- Left handers should ideally have light coming over their left shoulders
- Left handed children can be taught to cross t's and possibly f's from right to left (pulling instead of pushing)

Right corners of paper are up.
Bottom left corner points toward your body.

Assessment

Children must be assessed on entry into Year Three to see if they are using the correct letter formation for individual letters first. If they are not starting in the correct place they will not be able to join letters accurately. Pupils who need to learn correct letter formation for some letters must be taught this before they begin to join.

Teachers will assess pupils at the start of the year and decide where teaching should begin in the Progression Ladder. The year group starting points are a guide and teachers will need to use their professional judgement. However, be aware of the expectations at the end of the year.

The SLT will monitor children's writing and presentation in books regularly (as part of the monitoring cycle).

The following should be considered:

Is the writing generally legible?

- Are the letters correctly shaped and proportioned?
- Are the joins made correctly?

- Are the spaces between the letters, words and lines appropriate?
- Is the size of the writing appropriate?
- Is the writing properly aligned?
- Are the writing standards achieved by the majority of pupils in line with the National Curriculum?

Individual assessment

Children should be observed as they write during handwriting lessons – the teacher must circulate, monitor and intervene. Teachers also need to monitor and mark whole pieces of writing.

The following should be considered:

- Is the posture correct?
- Does the child hold the pencil correctly?
- Does the child use the correct movement when forming and or joining letters?
- Are any letters reversed or inverted?
- Does the child write fluently and rhythmically?
- Is the writing easily legible?
- Is the pupil's handwriting development in line with the National Curriculum?

Teacher modelling

It is essential that teachers model neat and cursive writing in shared writing on the whiteboard, interactive whiteboard and in pupils' books. Teachers' writing must be consistent with the school's model.

Application

Pupils should be encouraged to apply the hand-writing they are taught in all independent writing. Teachers must have high expectations of all pupils and expect to see examples of what they have been taught in all books.

If pupils are learning joined hand-writing, they should be expected to use this in their written work. Pupils should only attempt joins if they have been taught them.

Teachers must monitor this and use praise and next steps marking to bring this to pupils' attention where appropriate.
